

Volunteer with Citizens Advice

At Citizens Advice Swindon we provide free, impartial and confidential advice to help people solve the problems they face.

Volunteers are key to our success. They work on-line, over the phone or face to face to help people explore and resolve life's day-to-day issues. Sometimes we support people to find this information and take action themselves or we could be helping someone with complex issues that need us to be more hands on. Whatever it is we always help the client weigh up their options and take action.

And to do this, our volunteers are trained, supported and supervised to be knowledgeable and capable so they can confidently provide the help our clients need.

In return we ask for your commitment to our training programme, about 8 hours of your time each week and the intent to stay with us for at least a year.

So, if you are looking for an interesting, challenging and rewarding role and can freely commit some regular time to help us deliver our service to the local community we would love to hear from you.
